THE AUTHOR

Kate Jenkins, the creative force behind the multiple Great Taste and OFM award-winning Gower Cottage Brownies, has built a reputation for crafting some of the most indulgent and beloved brownies in the UK. What began in 2007 supplying the local village shop from her home kitchen in Gower Cottage has blossomed into a thriving business. Now, 20 years later, Kate sends out out hundreds of gift boxes daily from the picturesque Brownie Barns in Reynoldston, Gower. Kate is known for her commitment to quality, sustainability, and local sourcing, and her brownies have become a symbol of heartfelt gifting and culinary excellence. In her spare time, Kate contributes to the food and literary industries as a sponsor of both the Abergavenny Food Festival and the Henley Literary Festival. She has appeared on Saturday Kitchen (where they gift her brownie boxes to each week's guests), QVC, and This Morning, and her recipes have been featured in The Times and The Guardian.

THE AUTHOR

Beth Chatto has been the most influential British gardener of the last half-century. She started her garden at Elmstead Market in Essex in 1960 with her plant ecologist husband Andrew, experimenting by growing a huge variety of plants, and learning which plants thrived best in situations similar to their original natural environment. Beth became the leading commentator of plants from the early 1970s until her death in 2018. She published eight books during her lifetime.

The Beth Chatto Education Trust is now a charitable enterprise run by Beth's granddaughter, Julia Boulton, with a team of 50 running educational workshops, the garden, and nursery production. The garden attracts more than 45,000 visitors from all over the world and is soon to expand with a new Dan Pearson woodland. It has a dedicated shop that sells Beth's books and plants. www.bethchatto.co.uk

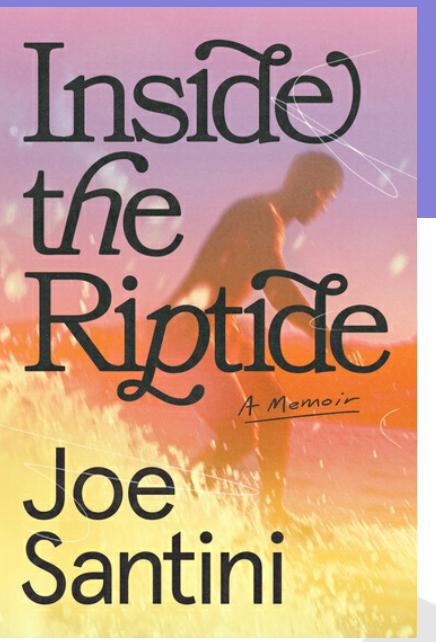
Inside the Riptide

A Memoir

Joe Santini



Out of the closet and into the ocean, Joe Santini dives headfirst into the waves of Sri Lanka, only to discover that escape has an undertow.

THE BOOK

When twenty-two-year-old Joe flees landlocked Colorado for a gig at a surf and yoga retreat, he's newly out, hopelessly naive, and desperately seeking escape no matter the cost. He expects a sun drenched paradise, but finds a complicated country beneath the tourist fantasy he's been sold. Joe revels in his new life abroad, learning how to surf in the Indian Ocean, all while being openly gay in a place where it's still criminalized.

As Joe eagerly waits for his long-distance boyfriend, Hayden, to join him, the picture-perfect paradise he's found begins to fracture. His two Instagram-obsessed bosses tighten their grip with increasingly questionable ethics as Hayden's secrets rise to the surface. Then, a sudden, dark betrayal shatters his tight-knit community, leaving Joe to discover who he is without a lifeline.

Joe's story is a vibrant, deeply introspective look at first love, toxic tourism, and the messy transition into adulthood. Fans of high-stakes resort dramas like The White Lotus will devour this gripping journey as the narrative descends into the underbelly of paradise, proving that no matter how fast you paddle, you eventually have to face what you're fleeing.

THE AUTHOR

Joe Santini writes with the same endearing energy he brings to the surf—bold, unafraid to flail, yet full of heart. Originally from landlocked Colorado, Joe moved to Sri Lanka at twenty-two and is still sandy from its endless shores. He is the founder of Gay Surf Week and travels full-time as a retreat host for digital nomads. A 2024 Art House San Clemente resident, Joe has also released a collection of poetry. He is a 2026 graduate of the Lighthouse Writers Workshop. When he's not writing or traveling, you can find Joe reviewing milkshakes or blasting Fergie's "London Bridge" like it never left the charts.

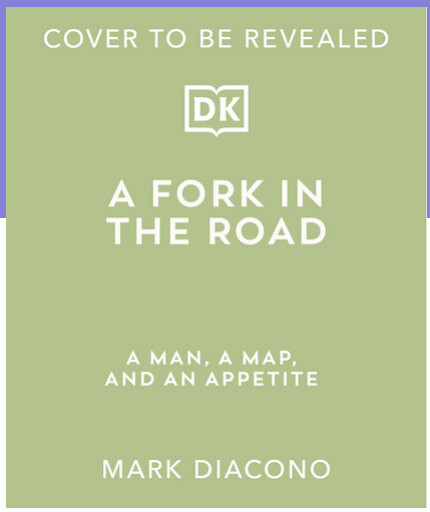
A Fork in the Road

A Man, a Map and an Appetite

Mark Diacono



Twelve walks, four seasons, and a nostalgic pilgrimage across Britain

THE PITCH

- UPLIFTING FOODIE TRAVELOGUE: Combining an evocative blend of food writing and personal narrative, this book takes us on a heartwarming, appetite-led walk through Britain
- AN ABSORBING READ: Readers of Felicity Cloake, Stanley Tucci and Nigel Slater will love Mark's reflections on the role food plays in making and reliving memories
- AWARD-WINNING WRITER: A seasoned author with 14 books to his name, Mark has won the André Simon and Guild of Food Writers awards. This is his first narrative non-fiction book
- MARKETING POTENTIAL: With a strong Substack community and industry connections, Mark is a respected voice in the food world. He hosts the Café Murano Book Club alongside chef Angela Hartnett

THE BOOK

What if the way to a richer, more meaningful life begins with a walk, and ends with something delicious to eat?

In A Fork in the Road, award-winning food writer Mark Diacono swaps his garden for the coasts, moors, valleys and cities of Britain to find out. Setting out on twelve distinct journeys across the country, Mark retraces formative steps and foodie memories while reflecting on a life well-eaten. Armed with his trusty backpack, he returns to the scene of the perfect pre-match mushroom pie outside Anfield, climbs sunlit Pendle Hill for the memorable tastes of his childhood, and retraces well-trodden paths in Cornwall for the perfect winter pasty. Along the way, he seeks out the local characters, changing landscapes and hidden culinary treasures that define the British countryside.

Evocative, deeply personal and distinctly British, A Fork in the Road is a universal story about the simple art of slowing down. It is an invitation to step outside, reconnect with the natural world and discover how a year of walking and eating can lead to a life more fully lived.

THE AUTHOR

Mark Diacono is lucky enough to spend most of his time eating, growing, writing and talking about food. He is a columnist for The Sunday Times, Delicious and Country Life, and he has written a number of award-winning books including A Year at Otter Farm, A Taste of the Unexpected and Sour. He was also involved with River Cottage, appearing in the TV series, and currently hosts the Cafe Murano Book Club with Michelin-starred chef Angela Hartnett.

The Great Escape

Britain's 400-Year Love Affair with Holidays

Annabelle Thorpe

A compelling journey through the history of British holidays

THE PITCH

- SPOTLIGHTS BRITISH HOLIDAYS: Charts the history of British holiday traditions, from the 17th-century spa break through the rise of holiday camps to what the future of travel holds
- CELEBRATES BRITISH HERITAGE: Fans of travelogues and social history narratives will love Annabelle's enlightening and entertaining commentary on the quirky aspects of British holidays
- FASCINATING TRAVEL HISTORY: Draws on diaries, letters and archival documents to take readers on a chronological journey through British travel history
- AUTHOR EXPERTISE: Annabelle Thorpe is a seasoned travel writer with extensive experience and access to unique research resources, ensuring an authoritative and engaging read

THE BOOK

"A real heartwarming portrait of Britain and our love of time off. I couldn't put it down." – Cathy Adams, The Times travel desk

"How we spend our time off tells us a lot about who we are – and Thorpe understands that." – Tom Chesshyre, author of Slow Trains Around Britain

"Behind The Great Escape's whimsical look at the Brits' love affair with the holiday is the true insider voice of Annabelle Thorpe. She has her finger on the pulse of past, present and future travel. " – Jane Anderson, Travel Editor of Prima magazine

Holidays. We dream of them, plan them and savour every moment of them. But where did the concept of "the holiday" come from? How has it become so essential to who we are as Brits? And what does the future hold for our treasured time off?

In The Great Escape, travel journalist Annabelle Thorpe takes us on a fascinating journey through the history of British holidays – from the 18th-century spa break to the age of the global nomad – to answer all these questions and more. Travelling the length and breadth of Britain (with a detour to the Mediterranean), Annabelle explores the wilds of Scotland, visits Bath, Blackpool and Butlins, and sets out on Victorian railway lines to uncover the stories of those who helped shape our holiday culture.

Weaving together history, social change, nostalgia and personal anecdotes, and illustrated with a colour plate section, The Great Escape is its own Grand Tour – 400 years of the high days and holidays we cherish as a nation.

Part travelogue, part social history, this book is a must-read for everyone who loves to travel and wants to know more about how the generations before us spent their precious free time.

Award-winning travel writer Annabelle Thorpe has spent two-and-a-half decades crisscrossing the world in search of stories. She's driven through deserts and crossed continents by train, stayed in five-star palaces and basic B&Bs, and talked to hotel magnates and campsite owners, concierges and redcoats, campaigners and museum curators, and everyone in between.

Named one of the top 50 travel writers in the UK by Press Gazette, she has worked on The Times and The Observer travel desks and held the role of Deputy Travel Editor at the Express. Based in Sussex, UK, she is the author of four novels as well as two guidebooks: Great British Weekends and Britain's Best Seaside Escapes.

QUOTES

'Annabelle Thorpe uses her considerable experience as a travel journalist to cast a perceptive and often witty eye over the past 400 years of how the Brits have holidayed, both at home and abroad. The result is an engaging, entertaining, enlightening and insightful social history.' Mary Novakovic, author of My Family and Other Animals

'An engaging, perceptive and thought-provoking exploration of the evolution of the British holiday, covering everything from spa breaks and seaside resorts to climate change and overtourism. Deftly blending history, interviews and personal stories, Annabelle Thorpe writes with charm and style about how, where and why we travel.' Shafik Meghji, author of Small Earthquakes and Crossed Off the Map

'Annabelle is a superb travel writer. This book is deeply researched, and brought wonderfully to life through her telling of Britain's 400 years of holiday history, through the earliest rail holidays to package holidays on the Med. It's nostalgic, inspiring and also extremely endearing; a real heartwarming portrait of Britain and our love of time off. I couldn't put it down.' Cathy Adams, The Times travel desk

'Full of fascinating titbits and with prose like velvet, The Great Escape reads like a 300-page holiday.' Ben Aitken, author of Sh*tty Breaks

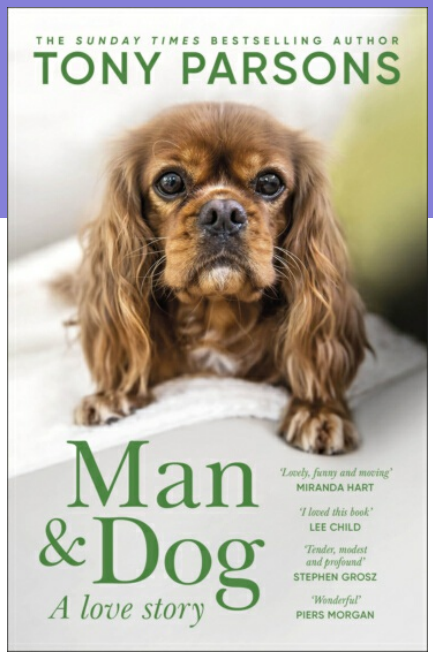
Man & Dog
A Love Story

Tony Parsons



A heart-warming and moving memoir from one of Britain's best-loved writers and journalists that will resonate with dog lovers and dog owners everywhere

THE PITCH

- RENOWNED AUTHOR AND JOURNALIST: Tony Parsons is the author of several bestselling novels and he has written a regular column for the Sun since 2013
- DEEPLY INVESTED AUDIENCE: Tony's Sun column about the death of his beloved dog was his most read piece to date; the book meanwhile already has fans from Will Young to Stephen Grosz and Piers Morgan
- DOG MAD: 28% of adults in the UK own a dog, and a surprising 46% of households in London has a dog. Dog owners love dog-related content, from the annual televised Crufts (8m viewers) to bestselling books like Tina and Marley & Me

THE BOOK

"Nobody will ever love you like a dog. Nobody will ever be as consistently happy to see you. Nobody will ever make you so glad to be alive"

It all started when nine-year-old Jasmine wanted a dog and her parents, Tony and Yuriko, tried to fob her off with a rabbit. In the end, along came Stan, a bandy-legged bundle of joy, loyalty and bright red fur. And nothing like a rabbit. Set against the backdrop of Tony's life in Hampstead and their daily walks across the Heath, with its rolling hills, ponds and cast of star-studded, dog-walking neighbours – this is a poignant, funny and deeply human memoir about a special relationship with a four-legged friend.

Full of Tony's reliably moving, wise and heartfelt writing, Man & Dog: A Love Story captures the ineffable bond between a man and his dog.

THE AUTHOR

Tony Parsons is an award-winning journalist and a bestselling novelist. His books have been published in over forty languages and his multi-million selling novel Man and Boy won the Book of the Year prize in 2000. His first job in journalism was as a staff writer on the NME and for the last thirty years, he has been one of the most widely-read columnists in Fleet Street. Last year Tony wrote about the loss of his beloved dog Stan in The Sun on Sunday, a column that went viral and inspired his memoir Man & Dog: A Love Story.

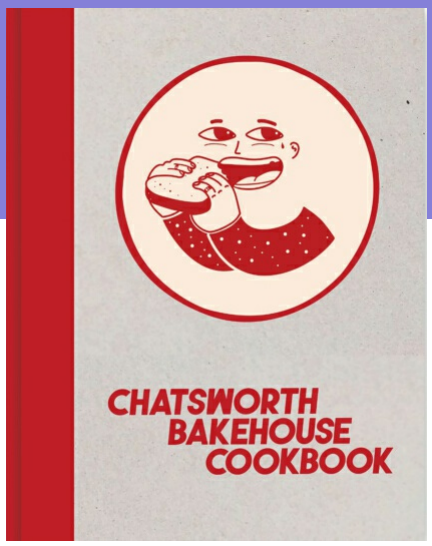
Chatsworth Bakehouse Cookbook

Tom Mathews and Sian Evans



The much-loved south-east London bakery worth queuing for – its story, its spirit and more than a hundred flavour-first recipes for bread, buns, pastries, sarnies and pizza.

THE PITCH

- A charmingly, funny, idiosyncratic cookbook from one of London's most beloved small bakeries.
- Distinctive branding that will make a distinctive book.
- Combines classic techniques with modern, bold, unpretentious flavours.
- Highly promotable backstory – originating from a desire to contribute to the local community, a social-media cult brand with queues down the street.
- Crossover appeal to bakers, cooks and food lovers alike.

THE BOOK

It began in March 2020, in a flat in south-east London, with some restaurant produce, no customers to feed and a dodgy sourdough loaf that Tom was ready to throw away. Sian promised it to a neighbour instead. That first loaf became a weekly 'honesty bakery' run out of a domestic kitchen, until a tiny Victorian shopfront appeared at exactly the right moment. They painted it pillarbox red and started baking. Five years on, people still queue down Anerley Hill for what comes out of that impossibly small space.

This is the book of that place, with a hundred flavour-first recipes built on the conviction that great ingredients in patient hands beat clever shortcuts every time. There are rustic sourdoughs and stuffed focaccias; the buns, maritozzi and glazed cinnamon rolls people set their alarms for; pastries and pies that reward a slow morning; nostalgic sweet bakes like brown butter banana cake and old-school bread pudding; sarnies taken very seriously indeed (the Bhaji Butty, the Kimchi Faceplant, Only the Bravas); proudly imperfect pizzas topped with pot-roast pears and Gorgonzola or fennel sausage ragù; and a pantry of jams, hot sauces, pickles and mayos to tie it all together.

But it's also a quiet manifesto. Woven between the recipes are essays on the things the Bakehouse is really about – patience, nostalgia, portability, imperfection – and on why so many of us now choose to wait in line for something honest and unhurried, made by people who give a sh*t. It's warm, funny, occasionally chaotic and entirely unpretentious.

THE AUTHOR

Tom Mathews and Sian Evans are the duo behind south-east London's artisanal bakery sensation, Chatsworth Bakehouse. Founded in October 2021, they built their micro-bakery from lockdown beginnings into an adored local favourite, famous for its wholegrain breads, pizzas and bold seasonal pastries.

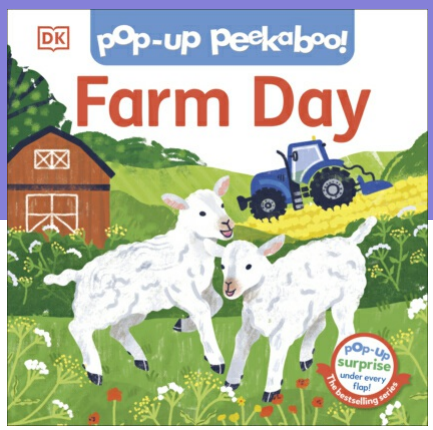
Pop-up Peekaboo! Farm Day



A fun pop-up and flaps board book to introduce little ones to life on the farm

THE PITCH

- ARTWORK STRAND OF A GLOBAL BESTSELLER: This title is part of the artwork strand of DK's Pop-Up Peekaboo! series, which has sold 13.8 million copies worldwide (2026)
- FOREVER FARM: Farm as a genre is still one of the most popular themes for early learning books, but now with intricate pop-ups to help it leap off the shelves
- IDEAL NOVELTY FORMAT FOR EARLY LEARNING: Large, safe, sturdy board flaps with fun, pop-up surprises are perfect for hands-on play, promoting memory, and helping to build fine motor skills
- BUILD LITERACY SKILLS: Research shows "children who can recognize and predict rhymes... go on to stronger achievement in reading than those who can't." (kidsacademy, 2021)

THE BOOK

Take a trip to the countryside and find pop-up farm animals hiding under flaps in this delightful book for preschoolers!

What animals can we find on the farm? Turn the pages of this beautiful book and find out! Babies and toddlers will love lifting the big flaps to find five peekaboo surprises popping up, including spashing ducks, leaping lambs, and cuddly cows!

The lively, read-aloud rhymes encourage literacy, while the beautiful pop-up scenes will surprise and captivate curious preschoolers as they guess what's hiding under each flap, and play peekaboo. As little ones turn the sturdy board pages, they learn about what life on the farm looks like.

Ideal for interactive preschool play, Pop-up Peekaboo! Farm Day is certain to keep little ones entertained time and time again!

OSO Goes to Nursery

Sophie Kent

Go on a new adventure with Oso the curious panda

THE PITCH

- DISCOVERY OF NEW EXPERIENCES: Each book takes OSO to a new environment, promoting curiosity and a greater understanding of the world
- RAPID SERIES GROWTH: The "first experiences" genre leaves plenty of room for quick expansion, perfect for little budding book collectors
- PLAY-AND-LEARN SLIDERS: Sliders on each scene makes reading extra fun, revealing cute details and scene changes
- APPEALING ILLUSTRATIONS: Author illustrator Sophie Kent's vibrant colour palette and adorable style is ideal for captivating young readers

THE BOOK

From busy cities to sandy beaches, discover a world of new experiences with Oso, with a slider reveal on every page!

Follow Oso the curious panda on his new adventure – his very first day at nursery. This charming board book series encourages children to explore the world around them while also developing their language skills.

Each book introduces young readers to a new experience through a fun story and interactive sliders. What will Oso find? Who will he meet along the way? Where will he go next? With the world as his playground and plenty to explore, readers can collect and enjoy four new adventures a year.

This series is the perfect way to introduce children to different experiences, foster a love of reading, and expand their understanding of the world (with a paw-sitively adorable character to guide them!)

THE AUTHOR

Sophie Kent is an English illustrator from rural Essex, who lives on the Gold Coast, Australia. She obtained a degree in illustration from Norwich University of The Arts, where she grew her passion for creating fun characters and playful scenes. She spends most of her time illustrating playful characters and scenes on her iPad, often with a cup of tea in hand. She also loves travelling, cooking, and baking. Sophie was highly commended by the judges of the Carmelite Prize for her design-led compositions and vibrant use of colour. Her clients have included Penguin, Hachette, Scholastic, Allen and Unwin, and ArsEdition.

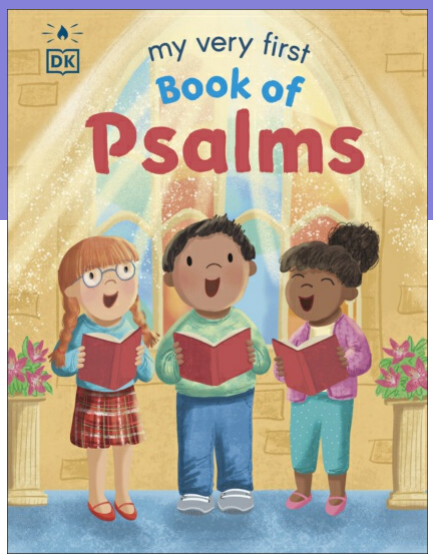
My Very First Book of Psalms



From the beloved illustrator Julia Seal and the publishers of the bestselling My Very First series, comes this very first collection of Psalms

THE PITCH

- AUTHENTIC SCRIPTURE: Uses actual Psalms from the Bible, curated by a specialist consultant to ensure the language is accessible, yet remains faithful to the original text
- EMOTIONAL LITERACY: Features a range of Psalms that help children understand that they can talk to God about their feelings and ask for his help
- SERIES GROWTH: Follows the success of My Very First Bible Stories 1 & 2 and My Very First Prayer Book, tapping into a proven market for DK's renowned religious list
- STUNNING ARTWORK: Julia Seal's vibrant illustrations provide a fresh, modern, and inclusive look for a new generation of faith-led families

THE BOOK

Help your child discover comfort, joy, and the wonder of God's Word through some of the most beloved Psalms.

This beautifully illustrated collection of essential Psalms introduces young children to biblical poetry, prayer, and praise. How do we explain God's majesty to a toddler? How can we help a young child ask for help when they feel small? My Very First Book of Psalms makes the ancient poetry of the Bible accessible for the first time.

This durable board book features the most essential, well-known, and poignant Psalms, including the world-famous "The Lord is My Shepherd" and "God's Perfect Knowledge of Man", using authentic text from the Bible. Expertly curated, the selection balances themes of praise and gratitude with gentle lessons on seeking help and finding peace.

Julia Seal's warm and colourful illustrations use familiar imagery to help children connect deeply with the message of each verse. Part of the popular My Very First... series, this is an essential addition to any young reader's first religious library.

THE AUTHOR

Julia Seal knew from the age of five what she wanted to do for a living – draw pictures! After graduating with a degree in Graphic Design and Illustration and then working in the greeting card industry (and getting covered in glitter every day!) she finally moved onto her dream job – illustrating children's books. She lives in a small village in England with her husband and two children, who provide plenty of inspiration.

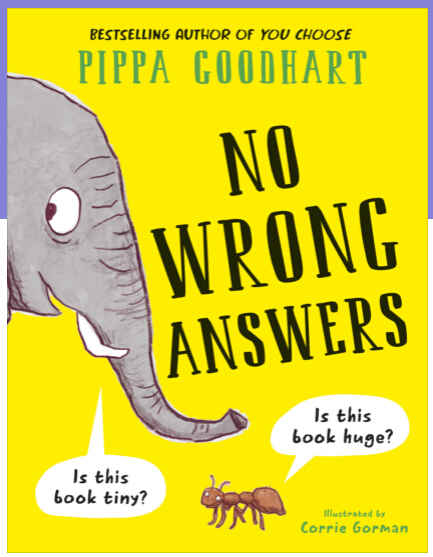
No Wrong Answers

Pippa Goodhart



Dive into a world of big questions where there are no wrong answers, only wonderful conversations

THE PITCH

- AWARD-WINNING AUTHOR: Written by Pippa Goodhart, the award-winning author of the hugely successful, million-copy-selling You Choose series
- FIRST ETHICS BOOK: A unique concept, providing a standalone ethics and philosophy book specifically engineered for the 4–6 age bracket
- EMPATHY BOOSTER: Promotes essential early-years perspective-taking and emotional intelligence by demonstrating how different characters view the exact same scenario
- HIGHLY INTERACTIVE: Busy, detailed visual spreads act as conversation starters, ensuring high engagement and repeat reads between parents, educators, and children

THE BOOK

Why do we ask questions? Usually, it's to find an answer. But what if one question could have lots of answers?

Welcome to No Wrong Answers. This thought-provoking journey is designed to get little thinkers to question the questions themselves! Is a pile of sweets better than a hug from a friend? What would an alien need to survive on a strange planet? Through standalone scenarios, children will explore big concepts like fairness, honesty, and identity. Every page is a busy visual playground filled with details to spot, encouraging children and caregivers to sit close and chat. It's not about finding the "correct" answer; it's about discovering how much fun thinking can be.

By showing that an answer often depends on perspective, these stories gently nurture empathy and critical thinking. No Wrong Answers is the perfect interactive experience for curious minds who are just beginning to figure out how they feel, how they think, and who they want to be. Ideal for bedtime chats or classroom circle time, this is a heartwarming toolkit for building empathy, curiosity, and big ideas in small steps.

THE AUTHOR

As a child, Pippa Goodhart loved stories; listening to them, looking at pictures of them, and playing them. She became a bookseller and an avid reader. Now, with over 160 books published, she's always mindful of children who deserve the effort of reading to be rewarded with satisfying stories or interesting information or fun games. Her You Choose picture books, illustrated by Nick Sharratt, have sold over two and a half million copies and won a number of awards. Her historical novel, The Great Sea Dragon Discovery won the Young Quills Award for best children's historical novel for 2019. She works with adults and children who want to write their own stories.

Me and My First Experiences

Get Ready for New Adventures

Dr Punam Krishan

Lift the flaps and uncover lots of first experiences with best-selling author Dr Punam Krishan

THE PITCH

- BEST-SELLING AND AWARD-WINNING SERIES: The third title in Punam's lift-the-flap series after You and Your Body (Junior Design Awards Gold Winner and Nibbies nominee), which has sold 22,000+ copies (TCM, 2026)
- FIRSTS, FLAPS, AND FUN: With over 90 flaps, kids can explore and prepare for new childhood experiences in a fun and empowering way
- BEST-SELLING AUTHOR: By Dr Punam Krishan, a GP and BBC Morning Live resident doctor, who lends her expertise and trusted voice in wellness
- GO-TO BOOK ON FIRST EXPERIENCES: Unlike all the single-topic books on the market, this title combines every key childhood milestone - from starting school to new siblings and going to the doctor - in one place

THE BOOK

Unwrap a birthday party surprise, open the door to your new classroom, and peek inside the doctor's office, as you discover a world of new experiences in Dr Punam Krishan's latest lift-the-flap book.

Growing up is full of exciting new adventures! A wobbly tooth might mean a trip to the dentist (and a treat from the tooth fairy), starting school brings the excitement of new friendships, and going on your first trip means something new to explore!

Taking little ones through many of the big "firsts" on the horizon, Dr Punam Krishan is here to help you (and your grown-ups) navigate change with confidence. From what to expect when you start school and how to make friends to what doctors actually do and more, this book shakes away first-time jitters and answers the big questions kids have. With colourful illustrations and over 90 flaps to lift, every page turns a new experience into a fun discovery.

Written by best-selling author and television doctor Dr Punam Krishan, Me and My First Experiences is a gentle, reassuring look at life's newest adventures and is a reminder that every first is the start of something exciting.

THE AUTHOR

Dr Punam Krishan is a NHS GP and television doctor who is a trusted and influential voice in health. Through her social media channels, her column in The i newspaper, and her role as a resident doctor on BBC Morning Live, Punam works to ensure health information is accessible to everyone. Punam's expertise shines through her best-selling books.

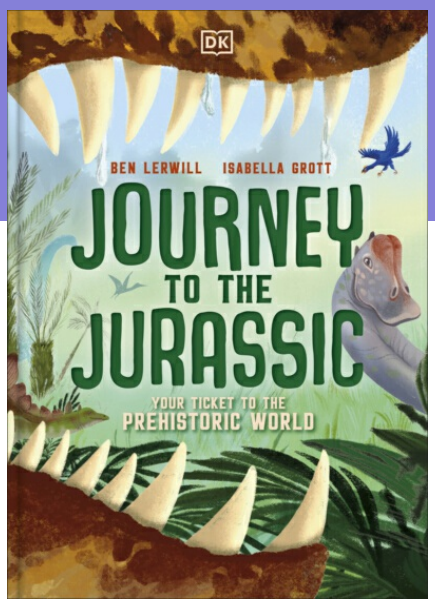
Journey to the Jurassic

Your Ticket to the Prehistoric World

Ben Lerwill



An immersive travel guide exploring Earth and its Jurassic dinosaurs 150 million years ago

THE PITCH

- UNIQUE "TRAVEL GUIDE" CONCEPT: Presents the Late Jurassic period as an immersive travel destination, offering a novel and exciting way to learn about dinosaurs and prehistoric Earth
- FOCUS ON THE LATE JURASSIC: Highlights an era rich with iconic dinosaurs like Stegosaurus and Brachiosaurus, predating the often-covered T. rex era, providing fresh content
- COMPELLING AUTHOR: Ben Lerwill is known for his captivating storytelling for children, as well as being an award-winning travel writer
- EDUCATIONAL AND ENTERTAINING: Combines accurate scientific information with an imaginative narrative, making learning fun and accessible

THE BOOK

Join children's author and award-winning travel writer Ben Lerwill as he takes you on a journey to the one place you can't visit: the Jurassic!

Dinosaurs and other prehistoric creatures were mind-blowing beasts – we all know that – but where did they live, and what would they have actually seen and experienced each day? What were the smells and sounds? Was there rain? Thunder? Snow?

This book is a travel guide to Planet Earth 150 million years ago – some 70 million years before T. rex and Triceratops first appeared – but all sorts of iconic creatures roamed the earth and swam the seas: Brachiosaurus, Stegosaurus, Diplodocus, Brontosaurus and the terrifying Allosaurus to name a few.

Perfect for dinosaur lovers and travel enthusiasts alike, Jurassic Planet is the perfect gift for all hungry young minds.

THE AUTHOR

Ben Lerwill is an award-winning travel writer and children's book author, living in a small village in England with his family and sporadically obedient dog. Many of his children's books echo his passion for globetrotting and his experience in his work as a travel writer. Wild Family was named Children's Book of the Week in the Sunday Times, and Around the World in 80 Trees was shortlisted for the Wainwright Prize.

Isabella Grott was born in Rovereto in Northern Italy and currently lives in Florence. She is a versatile illustrator and works digitally as well as with watercolour, pencils, and crayons. Just Add Dinosaurs

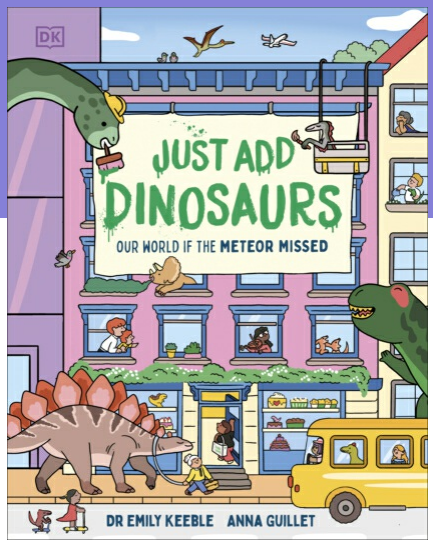
Our World if the Meteor Missed

Dr Emily Keeble



Our world if the meteor missed

THE PITCH

- A NEW WAY TO EXPLORE DINOSAURS: A fresh approach to a popular subject – no one else is publishing a book on dinosaurs quite like this one
- WRITTEN BY A PALEONTOLOGIST: Our author is Dr Emily Keeble, a vertebrate palaeontologist
- FACT-PACKED TEXT: Still offers all the facts and stats that dino-fans love
- EPIC SCALE: By placing the dinosaurs to scale in familiar environments, a child can instantly see the size of these magnificent creatures

THE BOOK

66 million years ago, a massive asteroid hurtles toward Earth and… misses. Fast forward to today, where our world is exactly the same, except you just add dinosaurs!

Step into an alternate universe where prehistoric giants live right alongside us – walking down our streets, swimming at our beaches, and joining in on everyday life. By placing these legendary creatures into familiar modern scenes, this beautifully illustrated, large-format reference book gives kids an instant, jaw-dropping sense of dinosaur scale and anatomy.

Watch a towering Brachiosaurus use its massive neck to run a high-reach fire hose, a Triceratops plow a farm field with its powerful horns, and a musical Parasaurolophus blast a solo in a symphony orchestra! Packed with witty details for kids aged 5–7 to pore over, this book reimagines our everyday world in the most delightfully absurd way.

Open the pages to find out what happens when the past meets the present!

THE AUTHOR

Dr Emily Keeble completed her MSci in palaeontology and evolution at the University of Bristol in 2017 where she spent her final year studying late Triassic microvertebrates from fissure fill deposits in Wales. She has interned at the Great Plains Dinosaur Museum in Montana where she acted as a fossil preparator and enjoyed the opportunity to be involved in some fieldwork in the Hell Creek Formation. Emily has volunteered at the London Natural History Museum as a 3D surface scanning technician, digitally imaging the Pleistocene mammal collection along with some important fish holotypes; and also as a fossil preparator working mostly on a sauropod dinosaur. Emily is passionate about science communication and outreach and worked on the Bristol Dinosaur Project and the DinoMania exhibit at Bristol Zoo in 2017. She has worked as a freelance consultant and writer for DK. This is her first children's book.

Against the Odds Indian Ocean Tsunami 2004

Mary Colgan

Tales of survival against the odds for striving readers aged 10–14

THE PITCH

- SUPPORTS LITERACY: The Hi-Lo format, carefully structured text and supporting illustrations make reading more accessible and help bridge the gap between decodable and mainstream reading
- BOOSTS SPELLING AND COMPREHENSION: A morphology focus (word roots, prefixes, suffixes) improves readers' decoding, spelling and vocabulary
- ENGAGING STORYLINES: The stories in the Against the Odds series follow historical fiction narratives - inspired by true events - to engage and motivate reluctant readers
- ACCESSIBLE FONT: The font in this book is specifically selected to reduce visual stress

THE BOOK

A calm, bright day in southern Thailand changes in an instant when a massive tsunami suddenly swallows the vibrant resort town of Phuket.

Thirteen-year-old Dara must survive not only the crashing wave but the devastating aftermath it leaves in its wake. Will she and her stepbrother Anan be able to navigate the hidden dangers of an unrecognisable landscape and get back home to their parents?

This book is part of the Against the Odds series, a captivating series of fictional - but inspired by true events - Hi-Lo chapter books tailored for striving readers aged 10–14. Each title in this collection unravels the extraordinary experiences of young people overcoming incredible challenges. Whether it's facing the unknown or triumphing against the odds, these stories are both riveting and inspiring.

The series is carefully written with a focus on morphology, which is hugely important for improving spelling and reading comprehension. Against the Odds: Indian Ocean Tsunami 2004 focuses specifically on verb suffixes.

With font specially selected to reduce visual stress, this book serves as a vital bridge between decodable and mainstream books, empowering all learners to become fluent independent readers.

THE AUTHOR

Mary Colgan is a children's books author and editor based in the San Francisco Bay Area. Throughout her career, she has written and edited all kinds of content for all kinds of readers, from toddlers to teens and everyone in between. Whatever the genre or category, her goal is the same – to delight, educate, and engage young readers. She is also an avid traveller, horror movie junkie, and lover of dark fiction.

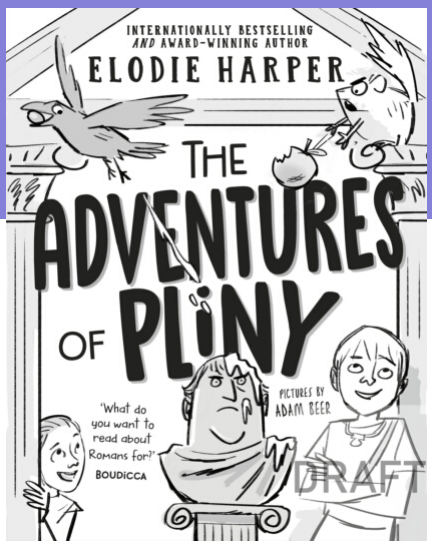
The Adventures of Pliny

Elodie Harper



The first in a hilarious new illustrated middle grade series from internationally bestselling author Elodie Harper

THE PITCH

- BESTSELLING AUTHOR: Written by international bestseller Elodie Harper, whose The Wolf Den trilogy included a Barnes & Noble Book of the Month. THE ADVENTURES OF PLINY is her highly anticipated children's debut
- PERFECT FOR THE GROWING DEMAND IN LOWER MIDDLE GRADE: Responding to market demand for highly illustrated low word count Middle Grade, Adam Beer's illustrations bring the story to life
- NEW CHARACTER FAVOURITE: 10 year old Pliny finds out he can talk to animals and chaos unfolds...
- ROMAN SETTING: Introduces young readers to the world of ancient Rome through the eyes of a relatable and engaging young character
- THE FIRST IN A TRILOGY: Book 2 publishing in 2028, Book 3 in 2029

THE BOOK

The must-read debut children's novel from Sunday Times bestselling author Elodie Harper, with laugh-out-loud illustrations by storyboard artist Adam Beer.

Pliny's life is pretty ordinary for a 10-year-old Roman boy ... Until, one day, it isn't.

When Pliny stumbles upon a dormouse trapped in a pot, he doesn't expect to come to its rescue. He definitely doesn't expect the mouse to start squeaking orders at him, to actually understand the bossy mouse, or for it to be so exceptionally bad-tempered!

After the death of his father, Pliny's cruel Uncle Balbus and his awful wife Hortensia have invaded his home and intend to take over, threatening to overturn everything Pliny has ever known. But Pliny now has bigger fish to fry, like trying to stop his new dormouse friend, Muscardinus, being roasted and eaten by Uncle Balbus...

Life definitely isn't normal anymore.

THE AUTHOR

Elodie Harper is a TV journalist and author whose bestselling Wolf Den trilogy is an international bestseller. The Wolf Den was a Waterstones and Barnes and Noble book of the month and her work has been widely recognised by awards in the UK. Alongside her career as a writer, Elodie worked many years as a reporter at ITV News, and before that as a producer at Channel 4 News.

Adam Beer is a UK based storyboard artist and illustrator. He's worked for a wide variety of clients in Europe and the US including; Netflix, BBC, Aardman, Nickelodeon, and Disney. His debut picture book Mammoth, written by Anna

The Myth Makers: A Heist in Ancient Greece

SJ King

Join four fearless friends on myth-saving adventures across ancient civilizations

THE PITCH

- CREATIVE POWERHOUSE: Created by Working Partners, the creators of Warriors (70 million copies sold), and Beast Quest (25 million copies sold)
- COLLECTIBLE SERIES: The first of four books in a dynamic new series about the world's myths. Each book stands alone while contributing to a larger narrative, encouraging readers to collect them
- STRONG HEROES: Features a multicultural cast of young protagonists, promoting diversity and teamwork
- INTRODUCTION TO GREEK LORE: Brings the ancient world to life through high-stakes encounters with famous beasts, iconic settings like Mount Olympus, and direct involvement from Olympian gods

THE BOOK

Join the Myth Makers on their first high-stakes mission to save the legends of Ancient Greece!

When Poseidon's powerful trident is stolen by the villainous trickster Notoria, the world's oceans descend into chaos. Giant sea monsters are washed ashore, and a terrifying storm threatens to drown the city of white temples and olive groves.

Chosen by the goddess Athena, young heroes Quill and Bard must leave their home of Mythos to put things right. Armed with the power of invention and accompanied by Lockie, a magical kelpie who can shift from a horse on land to a spirit in the water, they must outsmart Harpies and outrun whirlpools to reclaim the trident. Can the Myth Makers stop Notoria from rewriting history before the Greek myths are lost forever?

Perfect for young readers who love mythology, adventure, and strong, smart heroes, Myth Makers blends history and fantasy in a captivating series that celebrates the rich tapestry of world myths.

Each Myth Makers instalment includes an exclusive preview of the next legendary realm to be explored, keeping young readers hungry for the next quest.

Phonic Books Mysteries of Camp Alpine

Truly decodable books for older readers who need support with their reading

THE PITCH

- TRULY DECODABLE: Texts are truly decodable to allow independent reading from the outset
- CUMULATIVE PROGRESSION: Phonemic awareness and decoding skills are built up gradually so the reader can experience success from the very beginning
- CURRICULUM ALIGNMENT: Use with any phonics reading curriculum or programme to practise skills learnt in explicit phonics instruction
- DYSLEXIA-FRIENDLY: This series uses dyslexia-friendly font and a cream-coloured background to reduce visual stress

THE BOOK

When Blake arrives at summer camp, something feels off and secrets linger in the air. One night during a special moonlit event, Blake's friend Will mysteriously vanishes. But when Blake turns to the other campers for help, he makes a chilling discovery: no one else remembers Will at all. Can Blake uncover the truth about Camp Alpine, before it's too late? This series comprises 10 books and covers alternative spellings of vowel and consonant sounds and common Latin suffixes.

Book 1: u, ue, u-e
Book 2: u, o, ou
Book 3: s, ss, se, c, ce
Book 4: l, ll, le, al
Book 5: j, g, ge
Book 6: f, ff, ph
Book 7: -ture
Book 8: -tion
Book 9: -cial, -tial
Book 10: -sion

Accompanying photocopiable activities can be found in Mysteries of Camp Alpine Activities. This series shares the same phonic progression as Phonic Books The Fact Files 4 and Hidden in Paris and can be used in parallel to consolidate phonemic knowledge and reading skills.
